You might not have lived in Dealey plaza or worked in the school book depository but what occurred there in 1963 affected the entire country. These events also permanently reshaped the landscape of Dallas, forever naming it the Assassination City. Now, in 2006, the Assassination City Derby will forever change the Dallas music scene with Watch Your Head Vol. 1. This compilation of local talent could be considered the soundtrack of the Assassination City, for both the derby and Dallas as a whole.

Just like the girls of ACD this comp will hit you with the force of a sixth floor bullet. From the opening notes of Hogpig to Darlington's proclamation of "Shut Up and Skate" Watch Your Head Vol. 1 takes the listener through a tour of the Dallas music scene. There is the hard rock of the Mad Mexicans, the psychobilly sound of the Phantom Rockers, the country styling of Spitfire Tumbleweeds and even a heavy metal cover of the Jim Croce classic "Roller Derby Queen" performed by Dallas rockers Mitra. The fans of Dallas indie rock aren't left out with contributions by the Tah-Dahs and the 60's garage sound of the Ravens.

Highlights of the compilation include the unreleased "Artillery" by Max Cady and a sneak peek of "Set the Speed" from Dixie Witch's upcoming new album Smoke and Mirrors. The comp takes a mellow turn with Ex-Squirrel Nut Zippers front man Jimbo Mathus' soulful "Skateland Baby" and the sideshow-jazz sound of "Dead Man in a Motel Room" by Shanghai 5. Although not local, regular Dallas visitors the Flametrick Subs get the crowd going with their version of classic "The Crusher."

From Deep Ellum to Fry Street and from heavy-metal to Mississippi Blues, Watch Your Head Vol. 1 skates to all sides of Dallas music, giving an elbow in the face to the local music scene in a time when it needs it the most. As Hogpig states in the opening track, this compilation is a call to arms for everyone to "Come on down to Assassination City!"
