The Latest Release by Mike McClure
FOAM
with the smash debut single
“She Don’t Want Nobody”
available in stores November 14, 2006.

The Red Dirt Rocker Does it Again With FOAM.

Mike McClure’s new album, FOAM, is a continuation of a series of great records by one of the most prolific and poetic songwriters and performers in alternative country and Red Dirt rock.

FOAM is the highly anticipated follow-up to McClure’s widely successful Camelot Falling, which was released in September of 2005. FOAM contains 10 new tracks by McClure and a re-release of his smash hit “Floods,” originally only available on a now out-of-print EP.

The album was recorded at Billy Gibbons’ “Foam Room” studio in Houston, Texas. Much of the classic ZZ Top amplification and equipment was used to create unique tones that are vintage McClure with a dash of ZZ Top.

The Mike McClure Band and Joe Hardy produced the CD with engineering and mixing by Joe Hardy. Additional musicians on the record include Joe Hardy, Lloyd Maines, Travis Linville, Kevin Webb, Amanda Brown, and Kim Mitchell. The Mike McClure Band is Mike McClure, Tom Skinner, and Eric Hansen.
